

Pain - Communication and the Patient Experience

Chronic Pain - Video 1

“Good night, bud - love you!”

I’m so sorry.

I’m so sorry.

You look so healthy.

If there’s anything I can do...

Is there anything I can do?

Is there anything I can do?

Mommy, I wish I could take the pain away.

I understand this must be awful.

I understand this must be awful.

Are you okay?

I know you can do it.

I know you can do this.

Mommy, I know you can. Cause you’re the best.

I don’t know what to do.

You did it yesterday. Maybe you just need to push a little harder.

Maybe you just need to push a little harder.

Maybe you just need to push a little harder.

No pain, no gain!

Have you tried a massage?

Have you tried meditation?

Have you tried yoga?

Have you tried heat?

Have you tried ice?

Have you tried more water?

Have you tried the paleo diet?

These drugs make my brain cloudy.

She seemed really happy for the last few days. Maybe she’s cured.

She’s always tired.

Maybe she’s just depressed.

She’s always tired.

Maybe she’s just...

She’s always tired.

Will I sleep tonight?

It’s all in her head.

I saw her out walking yesterday and she didn’t look like she was in pain.

She didn't look like she was in pain to me.

She cancelled on me again.

She cancelled on me again.

She cancelled on me again today.

Mommy, just take the pill and let's go.

My pain is so bad I can't hear anything you're saying.

She bit my head off the other day.

Well, she look normal to me.

She looks normal to me.

Well, she looks normal to me.

I want this monster gone.

This is the fourth time you've called in sick this month.

You don't want to have sex with me anymore.

We can try you on a stronger medication.

I'm sorry; we're going to have to let you go.

Mommy, I hate you! You never want to do anything anymore!

This medication works well but it is quite expensive.

I'm not sure I can afford this.

This relationship is not working for me anymore.

I wonder if I'll make it?
